Fact sheet

licenseguard.me

What it is

Regulatory compliance intelligence for contractors. LicenseGuard AI organises licensing requirements, building and trade codes, licence reciprocity and permit fee information by state, city and trade, and links every record to its official source.

Who it is for

Contractors and trades businesses that work under state and local licensing rules, especially those who work in more than one city or state.

Availability

- Web app, in any modern browser
- Can be added to a phone home screen (Android and iPhone)
- Languages: English, Spanish, French, Portuguese, German

What it does

- Search by state, city, trade and keyword
- Licence reciprocity check between states
- Permit and licence fee comparison
- Mark records as reviewed, with private notes
- Printable one-page Job Code Briefs
- Project package PDF for customers or inspectors
- Saved licences with expiry dates, and warnings for licences that are expired or expire within 90 days
- Saved projects with location and trade
- Notes when the content of selected official state pages has changed
- Step-by-step tutorials, and a no-sign-up demo

What it is not

- It is not legal advice.
- It does not replace the official source. Every record links to where it comes from, and the contractor makes the final check.
- It does not interpret or summarise changes to official pages. It tells you a page changed so you can open it.

Privacy

- Each customer's saved licences, projects, briefs, notes and reviewed marks are private to that customer.
- Customers can delete their account and saved data themselves at any time.
- Visitor counting stores no IP address and sets no cookie.
